Lenten Services

Ash Wednesday Opens Lent

NEW YORK (AP)—Lent began today—Ash Wednesday.

The 40-day period, which lasts until the Saturday before Easter, is a series of mid-week Lenten services, the Church's history and worship.

Many churches will hold special Lenten services each week throughout the season.

Practices in observing Lent vary with different faiths and individuals, and include such matters as dietary restrictions, special prayers, donations to the needy, or giving up entertainment, sweets or drink.

A major event of the first Lenten week will be the World Day of Prayer this Friday, in which Protestant and orthodox faiths throughout the world unite in common prayer for peace and abundant living.

Some 20,000 interdenominational services are scheduled in this country—at churches, in factories, colleges, hospitals and other places. The annual observance is sponsored in this country by the National Council of Churches.

St. Paul's Church

The Lenten season will begin at St. Paul's Lutheran Church tonight at 7:30 o'clock with the first in a series of mid-week Lenten services. These special services will be conducted each Wednesday evening for the next six weeks.

The meditation in these services will be based on the historical events in the suffering and death of Jesus Christ. Tonight's meditation will deal with the Lord's entry into His Passion, and with the determination with which He met the task before Him.

These services are designed to draw man closer to Christ through devout meditation on His sacrificial love. The church opens its doors to the residents of the community for these services, as well as for all its services.

Fifth Street Methodist

The annual observance of Ash Wednesday will be held at the Fifth Street Methodist Church with a sacrificial supper at 6:30 o'clock. A brief devotional will be held in the auditorium after which all will go to the basement for the supper.

Several of the hymns recently composed in recognition of the place of the city in our life today will be used in the service and the one selected as the outstanding one, "Oh, Jesus Christ, To Thee May Hymns Be Rising" will be sung as a solo by Mrs. Lee E. Soxman. It is to the tune of "Perfect Love" and was written by Bradford Webster, a minister.

A film will be shown, "The Hidden Heart," which was recently produced by the Methodist Church.

Broadway Presbyterian

The first in the series of Lenten dinners and devotionals will be held at the Broadway Presbyterian Church tonight, beginning at 6:30 o'clock. The theme for tonight's program will be, "The Saddest Word in the Bible."

The dinner will be served by group one of the Women's Association.

Trinity Lutheran

For the first in a series of Lenten services, to be held each Wednesday.

It's Dry Today

Today was dry, after several days in which we have been getting some moisture. Though cold, the day is bright and if it warms up a bit, some more of the snow will melt and let the earth sop up the water. The earth is a bit like a sponge, and it is dry, very dry, down several feet.

Mostly fair tonight and Thursday, colder tonight, low between 10 and 15, a little warmer Thursday, highest in the 30s.

The temperature at 7 a. m. was 13; 27 at 1 p. m., and 29 at 4 p. m.

One year ago today here high 38, low 30. Two years ago high 40, low 33. Three years ago high 65, low 40, rainfall .29 inch.

Stage at Lake of the Ozarks: 44.0, no change.

Override Ike, Vote Tax Cuts

House Ways-Means Committee Passes 20 Excise, Sales Slashes of Billion

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Ways and Means Committee today overrode a late-hour plea from the Eisenhower administration and approved a billion dollar a year cut in about 20 excise or sales taxes.

The reductions, if finally enacted, would take effect April 1 on items ranging from movie admissions to women's handbags to telephone bills.

The proposal, by committee Chairman Daniel A. Reed (R-NY) would slash almost all excises now above 10 per cent down to that level.

The committee approved all the cuts in the Reed bill but recessed before it could get to another section which would extend indefinitely the present excise rates on liquor, tobacco, gasoline, automobiles and auto parts, trucks and buses, and beer and wine.

Excises on these items are scheduled to be reduced about $1,100,000,000 under present law on April 1. President Eisenhower has urged their extension.

The committee was to meet again later today to take up the extensions.

Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey said in a statement last night the government could not afford now such broad, sweeping excise tax reductions as proposed by Reed. President Eisenhower told his news conference today he is backing Humphrey in his tax stand. Asked whether he might veto a bill cutting excises he said he couldn't answer in advance.

The President added with a grin that sometimes you have to take some castor oil along with the sweet cookie. He said he was leaving details to Humphrey and to Congress.

The Reed bill would slash almost all excises now above 10 per cent down to that level.

While cutting some excises, the bill would cancel indefinitely reductions set under present law for April 1 on liquor, tobacco, gasoline, automobiles, beer and wine.

The two actions would almost balance out if the House and Senate go along. The new cuts would reduce revenues almost one billion dollars a year. Killing the scheduled reductions would retain present revenues of about $1,100,000,000.

The Eisenhower administration had requested that the scheduled reductions be canceled, and originally had opposed any loss in revenue from excises. After Reed introduced his bill, Humphrey said the Treasury was prepared to go along with cuts in a few selected excises "where industries were being badly hurt by especially high rates."

But he said the administration could not support across-the-board cuts of up to one billion dollars proposed by Reed. Republican leaders, however, said they did not expect an all-out fight by the administration.

The four Puerto Ricans were charged with assault with intent to kill the 5 House members who were wounded, and also with assault with a dangerous weapon.

A federal grand jury, which heard six witnesses earlier in the day, returned the indictment before U. S. District Judge James W. Morris shortly after 2 p. m.

Presentation of the case had taken federal prosecutors only an hour and 45 minutes.

U. S. Atty. Leo A. Rover and his assistant, John Conliff, thus made short work of telling the grand jury about the outbreak that left five congressmen wounded, one of them seriously.

Rover said the four Puerto Ricans will be arraigned Friday. At that time they will be called upon to enter pleas of innocent or guilty.

Those indicted were the woman leader, Lolita Lebron, 34, and three men—Rafael Cancel Miranda, Andres Figueroa Cordero and Irving Flores Rodriguez. All gave New York addresses.

Meanwhile Rep. Alvin M. Bentley (R-Mich.) most seriously wounded of the five congressmen, was taken off the critical list at a hospital where he is under treatment. That fact reduced the chance that charges against the quartet might be changed to murder.

Congressional leaders were generally agreed, although unofficially, that no airtight precautions can be devised.

The five house members felled by the fusillade from the visitors' gallery apparently were recovering, although one of them, Rep. Alvin M. Bentley (R-Mich.) was seriously hurt, he was taken off the critical list today. A bullet piercing his lung, stomach and liver.

Missourians Are Due For Another Freezer, Highways Are Clear

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Missourians are in for another cold night. The winds are expected to subside during the day, but even at that the mercury is expected to dip down to 5 to 15 in the north and 10 to 20 in the south. There'll be some warming up Thursday, with highs in the 30s in the northwest and around 25-35 in the southeast.

The storm which moved across the state yesterday leaving snowfall of from an inch to 4 inches, left a few slick spots on the highways. The only solid ice reported was between Palmyra and Troy.

Low readings this morning included: Kirksville 11, St. Joseph 10, Columbia 16, Joplin 18, West Plains and St. Louis 20.

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP)—Nationalist China's Premier Chen Cheng said today Russia is using the possibility of an Indochina armistice as bait to lure France from the Western camp and block ratification of European defense plans.

But, he told Nationalist officials, he doesn't think the French will bite.

Cities Service Seeks Increase in Wholesale Distribution Price

KANSAS CITY (AP)—An increase in its wholesale gas distribution price will be sought by the Cities Service Gas Co.

Glenn Clark, Cities Service president, said his firm is the last major pipeline company to seek a rate increase.

He said studies are now being made to determine the amount of increase to be requested. Clark added present rates are based on 1941 operations and expenses.

Ben C. Adams, president of Gas Service Co. here, which is among those buying gas from Cities Service, said his firm would have to pass on to consumers any increase in wholesale gas prices.

State House Passes Key Drought Bill

Takes $6½ Million Limit Off Freight Free Hay Program

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—The Missouri House of Representatives passed and sent to the Senate today the key drought relief hay program bill.

There was no debate as the measure whipped through to final approval on a 133-0 vote.

The bill takes the $6½ million limit off the freight free hay program, thus making it possible to use fully the $1,604,000 in federal aid. That, in effect, swells program funds to $8,104,000.

Still in House committee is a companion bill to add another $2 million in state funds to the program.

The ceiling lifter got through the House just eight days after the session opened. It was the first bill to clear either House in this second special session of the legislature in four months.

The first session, a scant five days last October, set up the drought relief program. Under it the state pays freight costs for bringing hay from surplus northern states.

The unique program is designed to provide hay at $22 or less a ton for Missouri's livestock — no matter what the financial condition of the owners.

And that was the point that appeared to be producing an ever widening rift in this politics-conscious session.

Some legislators have said they think it is time to take the "bargain" in hay away from the more wealthy stockmen and make it available only to the ones who are suffering financially after two years of drought.

It produced a difference of opinion between the state's two largest farm organizations yesterday.

The Missouri Farmers Association, represented by its attorney, A. D. Sappington, urged the House appropriations committee to approve the additional $2 million in state funds. Sappington said at least 225,000 more tons of hay will be needed to take the stock through until pastures are green again.

He said the program has been a "lifesaver" for the cattle and sheep and should be continued in full operation to prevent a loss in benefits already achieved.

But W. W. Fuqua, legislative representative of the Missouri Farm Bureau Federation, disagreed.

He said he has heard many reports that wealthy livestock men are stockpiling the forage on which the state is now paying the freight bill. He said it is time to re-assess the program and make sure that only the poor farmer gets hay from now on.

No Draftees Go From Pettis Co. During March

THE Pettis County selective service office will induct no one into the Army during March, the first month no one has been drafted from this county since the beginning of the Korean War.

Mrs. Verna Williams, clerk at the local office, confirmed this Wednesday morning by a telephone call to state headquarters in Jefferson City.

It nearly happened once before. In December, 1950, when only one man was drafted. Two other men transferred here from other cities, so that three men actually left Sedalia that month for the induction center in Kansas City. The largest group ever drafted left in two groups in February, 1952, and contained 35 men.

Although the local selective service office was opened in August, 1948, in Central Business College, only a few men were drafted during the last few months of that year. Mrs. Grace Phillips was clerk then. Mrs. Williams became intermittent clerk in October of that same year.

Last November the Pettis County Chapter entered into an agreement with the United Farm Drive to participate in the solicitation of funds in business and industry in the city of Sedalia, but reserved the right, which is mandatory under its Congressional charter, to hold the annual membership campaign in the residential districts of the city and in all parts of Pettis County. The slogan this year is "Make Your Home 100 percent Red Cross" and the Chapter is asking citizens to support the Red Cross as a family; men at work, housewives at home. The membership goal is 6,000 members in Pettis County with $11,000 needed in funds.

Ionian Fatally Burned

R. Lee Wright Dies As His Home Blazes At Old Ionia About 11 O'Clock Tuesday

R. Lee Wright, 75, was burned to death about 11 p. m. Tuesday when his home caught fire and was destroyed at old Ionia, 18 miles southwest of Sedalia. Wright, a bachelor, had lived on the farm his entire life.

The fire was discovered by a passerby who notified neighbors in the vicinity. Mrs. Wendell Pitchford, whose home is across the road from the Wright farm, notified the Ionia switchboard which in turn called other neighbors in the vicinity.

L. W. Rager, who lives a short distance away, was one of the first to arrive and was joined by Glenn B. Brown and together they went around the blazing home on the outside in an endeavor to see if they could locate the man inside.

The rear part of the house had already fallen in and they peered in through a window in the front part, but failed to see Mr. Wright in his bed. They resigned themselves to the probability he was in the back part in the kitchen.

The fire was raging inside the front portion and it would probably be impossible to have gotten him out had they spotted him lying on the floor near the bed.

The fire destroyed the residence in little more than an hour. Early Wednesday morning Dr. C. Gordon Stauffacher, Deputy Sheriff, Ed George and a newspaper reporter went to the scene, but the embers were too hot to pry through to look for the body. It was not until about 10 a. m. when part of the skeleton bones were located.

The bones were found in the area which would have been the southwest room of the home, a bedroom. They were near the remains of the bed and nearby were bones believed to have been those of one of the many dogs he had on the place.

The blaze was fanned by a strong northwest wind. The house, located on a knoll, said to be the highest point in southwest Pettis County, caught the full blast of the wind and sparks were scattered for a great distance.

Neighbors who had arrived went to the barn and turned out his two horses and stood guard around the several other buildings on the place to extinguish any fire which might start from sparks.

The house was many years old, the original building being of one story structure. Later a two story structure was built on the west side. There were two rooms upstairs and two below in the later structure, which was also many years old, while the rear had a large kitchen and dining room.

It was believed the fire may have started in the back portion of the house as it was the first to fall in. By the time the neighbors arrived the two story part of the residence was burning.

Due to the body not being seen on the bed when searchers peered through the window and appeared to be beside the bed when found after the fire, it is believed Mr. Wright might have awakened and made an effort to get out of the house. This is only a supposition on the part of neighbors however.

Mr. Wright, who was born Feb. 2, 1879, had resided in the old Ionia community his entire life.

For many years he lived with his sister on the present farm. She died about 20 years ago, and since that time has been living alone.

He is survived by several nephews and nieces, among them being Ned C. Barrows, who resides about three miles north of the Wright farm, and Irving Siegel, who resides a short distance away.

The remains were taken to the Reser Funeral Home in Lincoln.

Red Cross Will Have One-Night Drive March 15

A one night Red Cross residential solicitation will be held in Sedalia on Monday, March 15, from 8 to 9 p. m.

Because the United Fund goal was not reached, and because of the reactivation of the Sedalia Air Force Base, the need of the Pettis County Chapter is necessarily greater this year.

These armies, many of them with families, are located in this community and some are turning to the Red Cross for counseling and financial assistance needed during the period when pay checks may be delayed or interrupted by the move. The chapter must be prepared to answer the call and serve the servicemen and their dependents.

Last November the Pettis County Chapter entered into an agreement with the United Farm Drive to participate in the solicitation of funds in business and industry in the city of Sedalia, but reserved the right, which is mandatory under its Congressional charter, to hold the annual membership campaign in the residential districts of the city and in all parts of Pettis County. The slogan this year is "Make Your Home 100 percent Red Cross" and the Chapter is asking citizens to support the Red Cross as a family; men at work, housewives at home. The membership goal is 6,000 members in Pettis County with $11,000 needed in funds.

Senate Group Clears Bill to Start State Toward Safety Code

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—A bill to start Missouri on the way to a modern highway traffic safety code cleared the Senate Highway Committee yesterday. It now goes to the Senate floor for action.

The measure, recommended by Gov. Phil M. Donnelly in opening the special legislative session last week, would set up a 12-member committee to survey all phases of traffic safety and report to the 1955 legislature.

Four would be senators, four representatives and four would be appointed by the governor.

Col. Hugh H. Waggoner, highway patrol superintendent, and Rex M. Whitton, chief highway engineer, both told the committee they thought Missouri's traffic code should be brought up to date.

Some legislators have urged a speed limit law to help cut down highway fatalities but the governor concluded the state was not ready for that and recommended the special survey first.

Urges City Get Recreation Coordinator-- Mrs. Livingston Calls Sedalia A 'Paradise' as Recreation Area

"This place is a paradise," said Mrs. Anne Livingston of the National Recreation Association, in her talk before the Optimist Club Tuesday noon. "I have never seen such facilities for a recreational program as you have here — but you have no leader."

Mrs. Livingston, sponsored by the recreation and education division of the Chamber of Commerce, is here for a week and Tuesday morning was taken by Chester A. Brown, executive manager of the Chamber of Commerce, over the city where she was shown the parks, the Missouri State Fair grounds and other places where recreational programs might be carried on.

She was surprised at what she found at Liberty Park, and she told the group that she had traveled all over the United States and she had never seen a park that had more facilities nor a more beautiful appearance than this one.

Mrs. Livingston urged that the people of Sedalia get together and organize a recreation co-ordinator. Although she had seen coaches who did a wonderful job of such an undertaking, she did not, however, recommend a coach, unless he was able to see the recreational program totally.

A good recreational director, she said, takes someone with vision. She stressed the need for baseball fields and the Little League, but she said, how many boys is that leaving out? And what about the girls? There are many groups, and then she asked Mr. Brown about how many people he thought were included in all the recreational programs and she was told about 15 per cent.

That leaves 85 per cent, Mrs. Livingston said, and that includes all age groups. She urged the use of Liberty Park. It is so well lighted, you could have square dances on the tennis courts.

Square dances for everybody have been held in some places, she said, and the tennis nets could divide the teenage square dancers from the older groups. She told of the huge checker board at a resort where everybody could watch the game.

I met an artist in Sedalia, said Mrs. Livingston. There is a wide field for all ages. No one ever gets too old to paint and some who have never tried before until late in life find they have real ability and real fun.

Music, she said, is another thing, singing and playing various instruments. Handicraft, games, picnics, parties, swimming, you have facilities for everything. And, she said, it is up to you to make use of them. Make this a town where there is so much fun that your children, and their children, will want to stay here. Important, too, are the older people for whom Golden Age clubs have been started.

Civic clubs are important, Mrs. Livingston told the Optimist members, both men's clubs and women's clubs, because members represent the home, the church, the school, everything. If, she said, the civic clubs would go together and employ a recreational co-ordinator, (if the city could not) "you would find that if you tried to take the co-ordinator away the city would put a new one right there." That is what has happened in other towns because they found that a recreational co-ordinator is so necessary to the town.

The next move is up to the Senate in the latest special session outburst, and Sen. C. R. Hawkins (R) of Brumley said it might not come until Monday.

The fuss started in the Senate yesterday as all 16 Senate Republicans joined in sponsoring a resolution urging the governor to add school finances to the special session's program.

Action was delayed temporarily as a result of Democratic protests.

But there was no delay in the House, where an identical resolution whizzed through without debate, 102-8. All the eight "no" votes were by Democrats, but 28 other Democrats joined the Republicans in voting for the resolution, sending it to the Senate.

Donnelly tightened his jaw and said "no comment" when reporters asked what he thought about this latest development in the running fight over school funds.

He was the target of sharp criticism by legislators and schoolmen last year after he vetoed a $94 million "bonus" appropriation of state aid, passed by the regular 1953 session.

Will Try to Bring City, Union Leaders Together to End Strike

ST. LOUIS (AP)—An attempt will be made today to bring city and union officials together in an effort to end the strike of a handful of city employees that has moved into its third day.

A little more than 250 city-employed AFL electricians, machinists and painters are involved in the wage dispute. The machinists, numbering about 100, joined the walkout yesterday.

Most of the city's 8,300 employees have ignored the strikers' picket lines. A few, however, have honored the lines, cutting or halting some municipal services.

The first move to settle the strike was made last night by William A. Webb, executive secretary of the AFL Central Trades and Labor Union. He said Mayor Raymond R. Tucker has agreed to meet with representatives of the striking unions.

Ike Speaks Against Lack of Fair Play In Investigations

Specifically Lauds Brig. Gen. Zwicker, Whom Sen. McCarthy Termed Unfit To Command; McCarthy Vows to Continue

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today spoke out against "disregard of the standards of fair play" in congressional investigations. He specifically lauded Brig. Gen. Ralph Zwicker, whom Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) had termed unfit for command.

McCarthy promptly retorted he'd go on investigating communism. He said: "If a stupid, arrogant or witless man in a position of power appears before our committee and is found aiding the Communist party, he will be exposed. The fact that he might be a general places him in no special class as far as I am concerned."

It was McCarthy's criticism of Zwicker during secret interrogation on the promotion and honorable discharge of Maj. Irving Peress that touched off last week's intra-Republican row and a complaint by Secretary of the Army Stevens that Zwicker had been humiliated. At one point, Stevens ordered Zwicker not to appear again before McCarthy's investigating subcommittee, but he later agreed the general and other Army officers would testify.

Eisenhower opened his news conference today by reading an 800-word statement. It stated at the outset that the Army "made serious errors in handling the Peress case" and noted that Stevens had so stated publicly.

The President said the Army was "correcting the procedures" to avoid such mistakes in the future.

The President did not mention Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) by name. Guests introduced were John E. Snodgrass, Harry Goldberg and Jack Cunningham.

Demos Leery Of Report By Young

Sen. Monroney Says Testimony Left Him 'Lot More Confused'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democrats on the Senate Civil Service Committee voiced dissatisfaction today with an accounting of the administration's security risk cases given yesterday by Chairman Philip Young of the Civil Service Commission.

Sen. Monroney (D-Okla.) said Young's testimony "left me a lot more confused." He added that he and other committee Democrats want to ask Young more questions and that they also will insist on questioning security officers in individual government departments.

Chairman Carlson (R-Kan.) of committee said Young would be recalled although no definite date has been set. He said in an interview he was convinced Young's figures are all right.

"I certainly don't believe these government departments would put out inaccurate listings," he said.

Young told the committee that the number of "security risks" cut off the federal payroll between May and the end of 1953 now has been raised to 2,247 from the 2,200 figure last used by President Eisenhower.

He said 383 of these had information of a subversive nature in their files. But he conceded he did not know whether even one of the 383 actually was fired for that reason. He also said under close questioning that he could not say for sure whether any were disloyal.

This was the civil service chief's first public testimony on the security dismissals issue and Democrats on the committee made it quite clear they were still displeased with his explanation.

Some Democrats have criticized the announcement of over-all figures on "security" separations which they claim leaves the impression with the country that most were Reds allowed by the Truman administration to remain on the government payroll.

Eisenhower said there are vital foreign and domestic problems confronting the nation which "demand the undivided and incessant attention of a Congress, of the executive branch, of the public information media of our nation, of our schools and even of our churches." He added:

"I regard it as unfortunate when we are diverted from these grave problems—of which one is vigilance against any kind of internal subversion—through disregard of the standards of fair play recognized by the American people."

"These incidents are all the more useless and unfortunate in view of the basic dedication of every loyal American to the preservation and advancement of America's safety, prosperity and well being."

Eisenhower said he and every body in the executive departments recognize Congress' right to "investigate into every phase of our public operations."

Donnelly Pressed For Increase In School Aid

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Legislators sought to put the heat on Gov. Phil M. Donnelly today for increased state aid to public schools.

The next move is up to the Senate in the latest special session outburst, and Sen. C. R. Hawkins (R) of Brumley said it might not come until Monday.

The fuss started in the Senate yesterday as all 16 Senate Republicans joined in sponsoring a resolution urging the governor to add school finances to the special session's program.

Late News--

Boeing Shows Big Jet Plane For Airlines

SEATTLE — A jet-propelled challenge to British and American planemakers—a 550-mile-an-hour aerial giant—has been taken from under its veil of secrecy by the Boeing Airplane Co.

The 95-ton sweep-wing, four-jet airplane was shown yesterday as it neared completion in the sprawling plant of the company which also builds the Air Force's B47 and B52 jet bombers.

It was known-how gained in building the bombers that made it possible for Boeing to be so near completion of the prototype of what it hopes will be the world's commercial carrier of the future, said William M. Allen, president of the company.

The first 707 won't fly until possibly early in September, he said, and production of planes for sale is three years away. But, company officials contend this will give them a sizable jump on other American manufacturers because, they said, no other airplane building in the United States has progressed as far with jet airlines.

Only De Havilland of England has a commercial jet in the air and Allen said he was confident the English Comet will be no match for Boeing's giant.

Competitive reasons give firm figures for performance of the 707 but admitted it would fly from 4,000 to 5,000 miles, carrying from 80 to 150 passengers while cruising along at an altitude of 35,000 feet "and up."

Recreation Fun Taught for 80 Persons Tuesday

Mrs. Anne Livingston, director from the National Recreation Association, left her audience of more than 80 people Tuesday evening feeling as though they would like to have several more sessions on this recreational program planning.

Robert Cain, chairman of the recreational committee of the Chamber of Commerce, introduced the speaker, who was brought to Sedalia through the Chamber of Commerce, as she appeared for the training session at the SCHS cafeteria.

Mrs. Livingston explained to the group, most of whom were leaders from their organizations, the importance of planned and coordinated recreation in physical, mental, creative and social activities and stressed it should be for both sexes and for all ages.

Then Mrs. Livingston demonstrated games that could be played for groups of all ages. It is with such ease that she directs the games that everybody joins in finding it is great fun to be participating. Leaders were anxious for the address where they could write for game booklets, especially those that are seasonal.

Everybody registered when they went to the session and among the group were 14 from the rural area, one of whom drove 20 miles to attend. There were also ministers, priests, teenagers and a few children.

The remainder of the sessions were planned for morning and afternoon, but an effort is being made to change one to another evening so those who attended Tuesday night might attend again and those who could not be there Tuesday night might find the benefit of at least one session.

Maj. Gen. Power Speaks at Mohawk Squadron Meeting

Maj. Gen. Thomas Power, deputy commander of the Strategic Air Command, spoke at the Air Force Mohawk Squadron meeting held in Kansas City Tuesday night. Power is vice-commander to Gen. Curtis LeMay, commander of SAC at Omaha, Neb., under whose command the Sedalia Air Force Base is assigned.

General Powers spoke on the importance of the Strategic Air Force, both in the time of peace as well as war. He explained at length the functions of SAC and also the importance of each base under that command.

The meeting was presided over by Otis F. Bryan, commander of the Mohawk Squadron, and was held at the Cypress Room of the Geo. Mehlbach Brewing Co., which firm was host to more than 200 members and guests of the organization.

Attending from Sedalia were David Routsong, member of the national AFA, and D. Kelly Scruton of the Sedalia Democrat Co.

The amendments—adopted recently by the Bundestag, the lower house of the West German parliament—were designed to clear away constitutional barriers to West German membership in the projected European Defense Community (EDC). The Constitution at present specifically forbids rearmament.

State Dept. Probe Betters Staff System

WASHINGTON — A House government operations subcommittee reported today that the State Department has improved its personnel procedures as a result of an investigation started almost a year ago after the suicide of a diplomatic officer.

The international relations subcommittee, headed by Rep. Brownson (R-Ind.), said it found evidence of slipshod personnel practices inherited by the Eisenhower administration.

It added that R. W. Scott McLeod was faced with a heavy backlog of personnel investigations and inadequate force of investigators when he became the department's security and personnel officer.

The report made no mention of Secretary of State Dulles' order Monday stripping McLeod of his hiring and firing powers. McLeod remains as department security officer.

The committee's investigation was touched off by the suicide in January 1953 of John C. Montgomery, who was in charge of the department's Finnish desk.

The report said nothing was found to reflect on Montgomery's "integrity, reputation or abilities."

But it criticized the department's handling of his case. The committee said it discovered that:

An investigation of Montgomery after he joined the department in 1946 was "inadequate and incomplete."

He had not disclosed his rejection for military service in 1942 because of a fast heartbeat and psychoneurosis.

The personnel division classed him as an "international economist," didn't know he was on the Finnish desk, and didn't have a copy of a "satisfactory" efficiency report made on him in 1952.

As a result the committee came up with recommendations designed, it said, to prevent "a recurrence of such instances of inefficient and improper personnel management."

The committee said it also found that the number of security officers hadn't kept pace with the investigative work load for years.

As of December 1952, the report said, the security office had a backlog of 5,533 cases, although 9,560 cases were completed during the previous 12 months.

It said only 83 of 104 security officers handled investigations and each closed an average of 6.5 cases each month, a marked drop from earlier years. On this, the committee commented.

The report disclosed that as of last April about 2,300 department employees had never been investigated and another 2,000 had been investigated inadequately.

Conference Resumes After Pre-Lenten Carnival Celebration

CARACAS, Venezuela — The top diplomats of the American republics went back to work today as the 10th Inter-American Conference resumed sessions following Caracas' biggest pre-Lenten carnival celebration in history.

The conference, which opened Monday, took the day off yesterday.

Today's program included a memorial ceremony at the National Pantheon for South American liberator Simon Bolivar and a plenary session at which U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold and three Latin-American foreign ministers were to speak.

U.S. Secretary of State Dulles is scheduled to address the conference tomorrow. His speech is awaited with much interest as the keynote of U.S. policy at the meeting.

US Firing 400 More In West German Office

BONN, Germany — The U. S. State Department is firing almost 400 more American and German employees from its big diplomatic establishment in West Germany, officials said today.

Other sharp reductions already have been made in the past year or so. More staff cuts may be made during the new government year beginning July 1, 1954, officials said.

The U. S. High Commission said 49 Americans and 338 Germans have been dropped or will be off the payroll between Jan. 31 and June 30.

Some of these staff cuts result from a reduction in occupation functions in Germany. Others are for straight economy reasons.

Ike Is Glad Senate Killed Amendment

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower expressed pleasure today that the Senate had rejected a constitutional amendment to curb treaty powers.

Eisenhower told his gratification at a news conference in which he spoke out in the McCarthy-Stevens controversy by calling for fair play in congressional investigations of internal communists, and covered a number of other subjects.

Last Friday night the Senate voted down 60-31 a constitutional amendment proposed by Sen. George D-Gal as a substitute for an already dead plan by Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) to curb the president's power to make international pacts. The vote was just barely enough to defeat the George plan.

Now, the President said today, it will be possible to devote full attention to carrying out the administration's program to build a stronger America.

On other points, Eisenhower:

1. Refused to take a personal position on the tax issue—specifically whether he favors a ceiling of 10 per cent on excise (sales) levies. He said Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey had issued a statement on those matters and suggested that newsmen study it. Humphrey's statement proposed sweeping reductions now in excises.

2. Declared he is not ready to say whether he favors outlawing the Communist Party in the United States. He ordered a study of that matter shortly after taking office, the President said, and the lawyers apparently disagree as to whether such a step would be constitutional.

3. Emphasized again that he never has used the word subversive in discussing the 2,300 persons he said had been separated from federal jobs in his security program. That was in comment on disclosure by the Civil Service Commission this week that of a revised total of 2,427, only 383 were found to have information of a subversive nature in their personnel files. He repeated that in his opinion all of those let out were bad security risks.

4. Refused to take issue with Secretary of Labor Mitchell because of Mitchell's public endorsement of a Fair Employment Practices Commission with authority to enforce its rulings. Eisenhower repeated he personally is against compulsion but does not feel Mitchell was disloyal to him in expressing a contrary view. The President declared he does not want a lot of yes men around him.

5. Reported he had received a letter from a man in Maine cheering the President's recent advice that Republicans avoid extreme partisanship in criticism of Democrats.

6. Announced that his decision on what to do about wool tariffs will be made public soon, probably later this week.

7. Referred to the gunfire wound of five members of the House by Puerto Rican terrorists as a tragic event. He said he was pleased to welcome at the White House the governor of Puerto Rico, who expressed regret for the incident. Eisenhower called the governor's visit a splendid one.

8. Declined comment on a suggestion—identified by a reporter as having come from Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.)—that the Army set up labor camps for subversives and suspected subversives in the armed forces. The President said the Army has the question of dealing with subversives under study and that it will be coming up with a plan, but he added he personally had never heard of the labor camp proposal and said he preferred not to comment on it at the moment.

A record number of 256 reporters and photographers came to the conference. Eisenhower seemed a little surprised at the crowd, particularly the number of photographers. He asked them whether this was some special day.

The crowd was built up largely because of expectations of presidential comment on the controversy revolving around Sen. McCarthy and Secretary of the Army Stevens. Stevens had complained, and McCarthy had denied, that the senator abused an Army general testifying before his committee.

Huff, a middle-aged widow in the junior play, and Larry Racunas, a mischievous teen-ager in the sophomore play; second honorable mentions went to Frances Bennett, an elderly woman in the juniors' Irish comedy, "All Were Invited," and Gene Johnson, the young collegiate in the freshmen's "Tell It to Tommy." Judges were Miss Mary English, Bob Harvey and Mrs. Ben Klein.

The intramural plays could not have been produced, however, had the following not cooperated so wonderfully: the band members and their director, J. R. Deming; Bob Riatta, soloist, and his accompanist, Mrs. Henry Salvo; Firmin Boul, Mark Mettler, Maryvyn Mettler, Ted Meyers and David Wason, stage managers; Mary Jo Bahner, Betty Hula, Beverly Hoff, Ted Meyers, Mary Helen Seitzer, and Martha Weinhold; the prompters; Mary Jo Aldridge and Beverly Couhig, make-up artists.

Mike Collins Passes His 92nd Birthday

Mike Collins, 315 West Fifth, was 92 years old Sunday and he is still getting birthday cards. The cards came from everywhere. Arizona, Florida and Michigan. He had several long distance calls, too, from members of his family in Detroit and Florida.

Mr. Collins said he was born a year after Abe Lincoln went in as president of the United States. He is still in good health and enjoying life.

Mrs. Houchin Feted At Birthday Party

Mrs. Minnie Houchin, 402 East Tenth, was honored on her 76th birthday with a chicken dinner Sunday, Feb. 28, by her daughters, Mrs. W. A. Stone and Mrs. Grace Wirol.

Those attending were: Mr. and Mrs. Al Brashears and family, Odesa; Mr. and Mrs. Bill DeHaven, Kansas City; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Crook and family and Mrs. Lola Mullineaux.

A granddaughter, Mrs. Bill Brunner, Sedan, Kan., called to wish her a happy birthday. A daughter, Mrs. C. F. Gibbs, was unable to attend due to illness.

Mrs. Houchin received many nice flowers, gifts and cards.

Merry-Go-Round

Italian Warns of Politics
Creeping Into Military

WASHINGTON — A former officer of the Italian army was sitting with a group of senators when the question of Secretary Stevens' capitulation to Senator McCarthy came up. McCarthy had been quoted as saying: "If you want a commission in the army I can fix it up for you."

"I doubt if you Americans realize what politics can do to an army," the Italian said. "I was a young captain in the Italian army when the Fascists took it over, and I know what politics did."

"It creeps in very subtly before anyone realizes it. An inferior officer who's a lieutenant is promoted to be a captain, simply because he's a friend of the Fascist regime. Or again, I remember I once ordered a lieutenant to take over a work detail and he refused. He said he was busy making out reports on the army for the Fascist party."

"Some people have criticized the Italian army for caving in during the war," continued the officer. "Politics was the reason. An army doesn't fight when it's run on political lines."

Senator Fulbright of Arkansas, who was listening, remarked: "I just received a telegram from a friend calling attention to the fact that the Egyptian army had kicked out its premier, the Syrian army had kicked out its president, and McCarthy had driven a political wedge in the American army all in the same day."

"It may seem farfetched to you," concluded the Italian ex-captain, "but once a political leader begins to dominate an army the line between free government and a totalitarian government becomes very thin indeed."

Army Politics

Judging from resentment against McCarthy in the Army there should be no early danger of his taking over. However, officers recalled last week how Maj. Gen. Cornelius Ryan, commander of the 19th Infantry at Fort Dix, had phoned Secretary of the Army Stevens to complain that McCarthy's office had been bombarding him to get special privileges for McCarthy's ex-aide, Gerard David Schine.

"General," replied Secretary Stevens, "this is one you've got to handle yourself."

Officers also recalled last week that when Col. Frances Kreidel, commander of the provost marshal school at Camp Gordon, Ga., had protested against Schine's transfer to his school without sufficient qualifications, Kreidel was suddenly transferred to Tokyo.

Under Army Regulation 615-215-1, no one is admitted to the provost marshal school without two years service, without attaining the rank of corporal or higher, and without being in a Class 1 or Class 2 physical condition. Schine is in Class 3, has been in the Army only four months, and is a private.

Despite this, Senator McCarthy arranged for his ex-staff member to ride roughshod over Army regulations and transfer from Fort Dix basic training to the provost marshal's school. Regular Army channels objected. But the transfer was ordered by Secretary of the Army Stevens himself.

And when the commander of the provost marshal school objected, he was transferred.

No wonder McCarthy boasted to friends: "If you want a commission in the Army I can fix it up for you."

Merry-Go-Round

Remarkable Senator Carl Hayden of Arizona apropos of the way the four Republican senators got Secretary Stevens to surrender: "They've been watching these Communists so closely that they've learned how to brain-wash." . . . Col. Robert R. McCormick of the Chicago Tribune amazed Washington by publishing a front-page editorial at the height of the Steven-McCarthy controversy telling McCarthy to lay off the Army. McCormick and McCarthy are old friends and the Chicago Tribune is one of Joe's staunchest backers, but first and last "The Colonel" is an Army man. . . . It was because Senator Langer voted with the Democrats to adjourn the Senate rather than hold a night session that Majority Leader Knowland proposed that the committee chairman no longer be picked by seniority. He was aiming of course at Langer. . . . Knowland seemed to resent Langer's vote against a night session more than Langer's investigation of Chief Justice Earl Warren. . . . His colleagues say that Senator Dirksen of Illinois, who did the chief job of sweet-talking Secretary Stevens into surrender, is such a good salesman he could talk a hornet's nest out of a tree.

Fat Chance !!

Russia's Foreign Minister Molotov offered Western Europe a 50-year "security" pact which would kill NATO, eliminate the United States from all European defense arrangements, and ask the West to rely on Russia's good faith in giving nonaggression assurances.

That proposal lasted just long enough for Molotov to read it. Secretary of State Dulles wisely left it to France and Britain to answer the Soviet spokesman. They repudiated it as quickly as they could.

It amounted to Russia saying: "Cast off all these unnecessary safeguards and trust yourself to our tender mercies." Just imagine anyone taking that seriously.

Molotov is shrewd enough to know such a proposal would get short shrift from the allies. Why did he make it? For home consumption? Or does he think this kind of anti-Americanism will score heavily in Asia and with a minority in Europe?

If Molotov and Co. were really keeping abreast, they would know that farfetched schemes like this one do very little to advance the Soviet cause in world eyes. In fact, they accomplish the reverse. Transparent efforts to delay and confuse show the world that Russia really intends no genuine concession toward the peace of the world.

Can The Continue Job Cuts
And Still Maintain Security

By Bruce Blossat

President Eisenhower campaigned for office on an economy-in-government plank, among others. A year after he assumed office, it is fair to see how he is doing on this score.

Twelve months ago there were 2,370,000 civil service workers on the federal payroll. Today there are some 2,170,000.

In other words, the Eisenhower administration has reduced the total by some 200,000. Most of this reduction has not been achieved through firings, but simply through not filling job vacancies as they occur. The normal turnover of government personnel assures that these openings will be developing steadily.

Predictions are that Mr. Eisenhower will be able to eliminate possibly another 40,000 in the present year, but prospects for further substantial cuts beyond that are not considered bright.

These economies in personnel, amounting to something more than eight per cent, must be accepted as an earnest effort by the President to fulfill his pledge. How impressive you regard it depends partly, of course, on how much you may have expected of the administration.

Secretary of Defense Wilson has said that if the Eisenhower regime could slash "operating expenses" by 10 per cent that would be an achievement of note. Naturally, operating expenses and personnel totals do not march along in perfect tandem. An eight per cent personnel reduction is not necessarily an eight per cent operating cut. But the piling down so far moves the administration well toward its expressed goal.

Some citizens, and some politicians, may have imagined that reductions in the order of 500,000 persons were not only possible but practical. The hard facts of modern day government life do not support this rosy vision of the future.

Of the citizen's tax dollar, only 22 cents goes for the ordinary expenses of government—the regular departments like Agriculture, Commerce, Treasury—which are generally unrelated to the broad national defense effort, the payment for past wars, and payments on the huge national debt.

Mr. Eisenhower's whittling on the regular services has been steady and will continue. But there obviously is a point beyond which it cannot go without serious impairment of services viewed by citizens themselves as essential to their welfare.

And, of course, to cut heavily into the 78 cents of the tax dollar which goes for defense and related costs would be to endanger, sooner or later, the national security.

Big government is something that makes many Americans unhappy, for it stands in their minds for unnecessary regulation, wasteful expense, bureaucratic rigidity. The President is dedicated to preventing government from getting any bigger, and to making it a little smaller where he can. But he is under no illusion that it can be made really small again—any more than you could get anywhere trying to peddle a 1925 Cadillac in 1954.

Some Heart Malformations
Can Be Treated With Surgery

By DR. EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.

Mrs. B. asks whether there is anything which can be done for babies with congenital heart disease. She says one hears of so many who have died, or at best will have to live as invalids.

This is indeed an interesting subject. First, it should be said that there are several different kinds of malformations of the heart which are present at birth, and which fall under the general classification of congenital heart disease. Most of these result in mixing of oxygen-containing blood with that which has been deprived of its life-giving oxygen, and which results in "blue babies." The bluish color of the skin which gives it this name is the result of oxygen attached to the hemoglobin, or coloring matter of the blood.

The various kinds of congenital heart disease carry such technical names as coarctation of the aorta, tetralogy of Fallot, and pulmonary stenosis with intact ventricular septum. But it does make a difference to the patient because some kinds can now be successfully treated by surgery and others cannot.

In one of these conditions the passageway between the heart and one of the large blood vessels, which should normally close before birth, fails to do so. This is called a patent or open ductus arteriosus. This opening can now be closed by delicate heart surgery with great success.

Surgery Sometimes Used

Some of the other congenital malformations of the heart can also be treated successfully by surgery, but not all of them. For this reason careful study of each case has to be conducted in order to make a diagnosis and to decide if surgery offers relief. Even with the progress in this field in recent years, the end has not yet been reached since investigators are still finding new methods by which they can extend the benefits of heart surgery to more and more people.

For the child with congenital heart disease who cannot be successfully treated by surgery, certain precautions are particularly necessary. Such children must, of course, be carefully examined and every effort must be made to avoid infection and excessive physical strain. In almost all cases the activity must be restricted in order to avoid the danger of overburdening a heart which already has too much strain on it.

Learned His Homework

Tommy Austern, Washington counsel for the National Cannery Association, told this one at the organization's annual convention in Atlantic City:

"What President Eisenhower is now up against is perhaps best illustrated by the story of the schoolteacher who was questioning one of her farm boy students."

"She asked: 'Johnny, if a farmer has 5000 bushels of corn and corn is worth 40 cents a bushel, what will the farmer get?'"

"Back came the answer like a flash: 'A government loan!'"

The World Today--
Mystery Over Disloyalties

By JAMES MAPLOW

WASHINGTON — It's still a mystery just how many disloyal government workers the Eisenhower administration has found since taking over from the Truman administration in January, 1953.

The Republicans campaigned in 1952 on a promise to get Communists out of the government. Some are talking of making Communists-in-government a campaign issue again this year in the November congressional elections.

The Democrats, with a large political stake in the actual number of disloyal persons found, have demanded exact figures. Newsmen repeatedly have asked for figures as a matter of public information.

The latest information, given yesterday by Chairman Philip Young of the Civil Service Commission, still didn't provide an answer.

He told the Senate's Civil Service Committee 2,427 "security risks" had been removed from the government payroll under the Republican. But he said he didn't know whether a single one had been fired for disloyalty, subversion or communism.

He had gathered his figures from the government agencies which did the firing after the committee, made up of Democrats and Republicans, asked him for answers.

He said 383 of the 2,427 were persons whose files contained something of a subversive nature. Then he added these people were not necessarily subversive and said he didn't know whether this subversive information was sufficient reason for getting them out of their jobs.

Later Young told newsmen he knew of no way of finding out whether subversion was the controlling factor in getting the 383 out of government service. A little later Sen. Monroney (D - Okla.) said:

"I guess the only way we are going to find out is by asking each of the security officers in the agencies."

Each agency has an official charged with getting rid of those found to be security risks. Some of these security officers have been questioned by other congressional committees. And some of their information has been vague.

This is the background:

In 1947 former President Truman set up a program for getting Communists or people who might injure the country out of government jobs.

Jack Spratt Diet: No. 3--

Calory, Vitamin List Easy to Conquer

EDITOR'S NOTE: Here's the third of seven articles in a unique two-way diet plan for the whole family—the ones who can eat no fat and the ones who can eat no lean, as the Jack Spratt rhyme goes. The big-star man and wife who tell their experience with the diet are the Jose Ferrers (she's Rosemary Clooney). Along with their story, Adeline Garner, a top nutrition expert for business, industry and magazines, details a diet you can follow for the same results. Rosemary Clooney is soon to be seen in Paramount's "Red Garters." Jose Ferrer will soon be seen in "The Caine Mutiny."

The diets our doctor gave us allowed me considerable latitude in planning meals. Provided I was homosexual, a person convicted of a felony or misdemeanor or a blabbermouth could be fired as a security risk any place he was found in the government, whether or not his agency dealt in secrets.

Total figures on those released thus would not show how many were Communists and how many fell into other classes unless the administration provided a breakdown.

Last October the White House, in its first announcement, said 1,456 security risks had been fired. The President on Jan. 7 upped the figure to 2,200.

Newsman asked Eisenhower for a breakdown. He referred them to Brownell. Brownell referred questions to Young. Young refused and passed the ball back to the White House. It's still bouncing.

Gas Station Competition?

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — A "terrific race" among competitive service stations for the motorists' dollar is forecast by the sales promotion manager of Continental Oil Co.

J. J. Nesmith told the Arkansas Oil Dealers Association that the war or panic can so completely destroy a business as can a new and better product in the hands of a competitor. He said many new and better products are in the offing.

Under this a Communist, drunk, willing to juggle calories, vitamins and minerals, we both could have palate-pleasing meals that were basically similar.

I didn't know anything about calory counting or the amount of vitamins needed daily, so I struggled with my figuring, consulting the doctor's lists constantly. Frankly, it seemed quite a burden in the beginning.

In a few weeks though, I learned the elementary facts of nutrition. And in another few weeks, I had really caught the idea of how to prepare a sound meal for each of us. There was much less need to consult the calory and vitamin lists.

Some facts were very easily impressed on my mind. Realizing that beef is rich in protein and comparatively low in calories certainly took only an instant. And after comparing the caloric count of a couple of stalks of celery with that of an ice cream soda, I had no difficulty recalling those disturbing figures.

I suppose I will always have to consult the doctor's plan and lists for the finer points. But now that I have established my routine, it doesn't seem that I am taking any special trouble at all. In fact, I rather enjoy it.

Now that the plan is working smoothly, I am working to keep our menus from becoming monotonous. One way I do this is by consulting the market reports in our newspaper. When favorite fruits and vegetables, such as strawberries and asparagus are in season, I see to it that they figure prominently in coming menus.

Junior-Senior Prom Features Theme of Lavender and Lace

By Norman Griswold

The annual Junior-Senior dinner and dance was held Friday evening in the Smith-Cotton High School cafeteria.

The dinner began at 6:30 p. m. and was opened with an invocation by the Rev. Warren D. Neal. The turkey dinner was served to approximately 400 Smith-Cotton juniors and seniors.

The decoration theme used for the evening was lavender blue and lace. The cafeteria was decorated with lavender crepe paper and figurative designs which were in accord with the theme.

At the completion of the dinner, group singing was led by Shirley Kirkpatrick. The group sang "Lavender Blue."

Following the group singing, Larry Mines, president of the junior class, gave the welcoming address. Darrell Ford, president of the senior class, gave the senior class response to the welcome and spoke on "Memory Lane."

Joy Cunningham, Spiz Club president, spoke to the group on the subject "Among My Souvenirs."

Dale Lewis played a violin solo, "Among My Souvenirs," accompanied by Willie Rosenthal.

Dolanna Mabry and Jent Ragar sang a duet, "Heart of My Heart," and the junior girls sextet, composed of Clo Greer, Elinor Van Dyke, Sandra Baker, Kay Carrell, Betty Clemons and Bernice Bacon sang "In An Old Fashioned Garden." The sextet was accompanied by Barbara Nicholson.

Robert Morgan acted as toastmaster at the dinner and introduced the participants who appeared on the program.

The main speaker of the evening was the Rev. Warren D. Neal, pastor of the Broadway Presbyterian Church. Rev. Neal spoke on "Memories."

The dinner program was concluded with the group singing "Memories."

Special guest at the affair were the Rev. and Mrs. Neal, Dr. and Mrs. Heber Hunt, Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Drake and numerous members of the faculty.

Miss Maude Sanders and Miss Swearingen, sponsors of the junior class, supervised, planned and executed the evening's activities.

The dance, attended by the majority of those present at the dinner along with several members of the faculty, began at 9 p. m. The guests enjoyed dancing to the music of Gene Watts and his orchestra. The evening's activities ended at midnight.

The senior student council held its regular weekly meeting at 2:20 p. m. Monday, with Carl Mathews, president, presiding.

At the meeting the judges for the intra-mural plays were announced. The judges for this year's plays will be Bob Harvey, Mrs. Ben Klein and Jim Green.

A new record player attachment to the school's loud speaker was purchased by the council and was demonstrated at the meeting Monday.

CALF SCOURS

Calf Scours is undoubtedly the most common disease of calves. Losses are terrific and in most cases needless. The cause of infectious white scours is not fully understood but is probably connected with certain types of bacteria that irritate and invade the walls of the intestinal tract.

The calf may acquire the infection before birth or by contamination of the navel cord or through association with infected calves. Most commonly, however, the calf contracts the disease from sucking a contaminated udder or some object. No doubt overfeeding can result in a scouring that promotes infectious white scours.

Continued diarrhea lowers the resistance and vitality of the calf to such an extent that it contracts pneumonia, which causes death.

In white scours the infected calf seems listless at first, then it gets weak, eyes are dull and sunken, breathing gets rapid and body temperatures increases. Later there is a profuse, foul smelling, brownish to grey, watery discharge that is characteristic. The calf may die in 12 to 36 hours unless prompt and effective treatment is given.

Sulfa drugs are the most effective agent for treatment. We can certainly recommend Calf Scour Checkers after more than 3 years experience with them. They are a certain sulfa that is not taken into the bloodstream, therefore they establish a high sulfa level in the intestinal tract where it is needed for safe, fast recovery. They sell for 30¢ each and generally three are enough.

Calves should be Vaccinated at this time against Blackleg and Malignant Edema

Moose Defeat SAFB Airmen By One Point

The Sedalia Moose Club basketball team narrowly slipped by the strong Sedalia Air Force Base team Tuesday night as they defeated the Airmen 79-78.

The Moose led through almost the entire contest, but pressed all the way by the hustling air force players. In the two previous encounters of the two teams, each had one victory. In the Moose's first game of the season, the team met defeat at the hands of the Airmen 49-43. The next game found the Moose victorious 59-53.

Russell Gilmore led the Moose in scoring with 11 field goals and four free throws for a total of 26 points. He was followed by Don Brown who had 20.

Franklin was the spark of the SAFB team, hitting 23 points. Next high for the Airmen was Carroll with 19.

Billy Pierce Bemoans His Hurling Record For 1953 Season

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Billy Pierce, the stylish little southpaw of the Chicago White Sox, enjoyed the best season of his career last year but it hurts him to even think about it.

Now starting his sixth season with the Sox, the 26-year-old hurler won 18 games in 1952, led the shutouts, third in innings pitched and fourth in complete games. Such a record should make any pitcher happy—but not Pierce.

"I should have won 20," he moans.

Pierce certainly seemed a cinch to become the first White Sox hurler to win 20 since Thornton Lee's total of 22 games in 1941. A sensational mid-season stretch, in which he hurled 40 consecutive scoreless innings, gave him a total of 17 triumphs in mid-August.

Thereafter, he made five futile tries for his 18th victory and finally gained it the last week of the season in 11 innings.

"I wish I could give myself a plausible excuse so that I could concentrate this year on not letting it happen again," he exclaimed. "But in all honesty, I can't."

Bob Mattick Takes Valley Scoring Lead

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Big Bob Mattick, Oklahoma A&M's team center, moved into the scoring lead last night in Missouri Valley Conference basketball. The displaced leader, Wichita forward Cleo Littleton, can't do a thing about it with his 20.9 average in the 10-game Valley record of 29.5 set a year ago by St. Louis forward Dick Boushka, but it was only a second place mark today to Mattick's 21.0 averages.

Mattick has one game remaining—against St. Louis and Boushka Saturday night. Boushka, missing two games because of illness, has a 20.1 average for seven contests and also is in the scoring scrap with one game remaining.

Thus Saturday night's windup not only will decide the team champion, but also will name the scoring champion as well.

The Aggies assured themselves of nothing less than a title tie with Wichita by defeating Tulsa, 77-46, last night. Mattick collected 23 points against the Tulsans to move ahead of Littleton.

It was the final game of the Valley season for Tulsa and Dick Nunneley, Tulsa's guard, finished fourth behind Boushka with a 19.4 average.

Teamwise, Oklahoma A&M still rules the roost in defense, allowing nine Valley opponents 54.3 points a game. Wichita is tops in offense with a 10-game average of 72.7 points.

German Youngsters Will Play Football In Milk Bowl Event

BRYAN, Tex. (AP)—A squad of 27 German youngsters will come to Texas in December to play a Texas team in the annual Milk Bowl football game, Eugene Weaf, executive secretary of the bowl, said today.

The German squad is being picked by Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of Germany and will be brought to Texas through funds supplied by the Milk Bowl and a group of Houston men. The 1954 game will be played in Houston.

The Milk Bowl uses teams of boys weighing no more than 100 pounds and is in its sixth year.

Chicago Cubs' Rookies Take Over 2nd Sack

By BEN OLAN
 Associated Press Sports Writer

The Chicago Cubs' second base combinations cost Phil Cavarretta many sleepless nights last season. Today, the 37-year-old manager thinks he has the situation well in hand, because of two Negro rookies—Ernie Banks and Gene Baker.

"Failure to make the double play and those many errors we had is what ruined us last year," Cavarretta said. "With these two kids I believe we may have the problem solved."

He is particularly impressed with the showing of Banks, the 22-year-old shortstop purchased from the Kansas City Monarchs last September. Banks batted .314 in 10 National League games.

"Banks has looked great," he beamed. "He has sure hands, a fine arm and looks like a hitter. He has great wrists."

"I got a good line on him last season when he slammed a home run off Gerry Staley—a sidearm right-hander. That's always a pretty good trick for a right-handed batter."

Although he's not supposed to be quite as good a batter as Banks, the 28-year-old Baker hit .248 for Los Angeles in 1953, including 20 home runs and 99 runs batted in.

He played shortstop for the Pacific Coast league club, but Cavarretta is confident he can easily make the switch to second base.

"If he can hit as well as Eddie Mikis, he stands an excellent chance of running him off the bag," Cavarretta explained. Mikis batted .251 in '53.

In all, the seventh-place Cubs made 79 of their 193 errors during second base last season. Mikis, dividing his time between second and shortstop, made 35 miscues, and Roy Smalley, at shortstop, made 25. The club made 141 double plays. Only Pittsburgh had fewer.

While Cavarretta was oozing with optimism in the Cubs' camp, Manager Steve O'Neill was laying down the law in the quarters of the Philadelphia Phillies. The veteran skipper ruled there will be a midnight curfew during spring training.

"No slippage play will be allowed this year," he warned. The Phillies also were reported trying to trade first baseman Earl Torgeson to either the New York Giants or the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Elsewhere, the broken collarbone suffered by Ted Williams earlier this week appeared to have touched off a rash of injuries.

St. Louis' Milwaukee's slugging third baseman, wrenched his back during batting practice and will be out for several days. Walt Linder, the Braves' reserve catcher, fractured his right thumb, and pitcher Bob Trice of the Philadelphia Athletics fell on his left shoulder, but was not seriously hurt.

Mickey Vernon, the American League's leading batter last year, won the center of a conference between Calvin Griffith, Washington's vice president, and Joe Cronin, general manager of the Boston Red Sox.

The Sox are said to be seeking Vernon as a replacement for Williams, who is feared lost for the early weeks of the season. Vernon has yet to sign his 1954 contract with the Sox.

On other fronts, outfielder Willie Mays drove out a pinch-hit home run as he rejoined the New York Giants after 21 months in the Army. The New York Yankees disclosed that outfielder Mickey Mantle will not be able to run for two weeks because of his weak knee.

Pete Wojcik, a rookie right-hander, pitched two hitless innings in Brooklyn's intrasquad game.

In the contract signing department, the Cleveland Indians finally came up with the signature of Bob Lemon. The big right-hander reportedly agreed to a $42,000 pact. Pitchers Ralph Branca and Steve Gromek signed with Detroit, and pitcher Don Larsen with Baltimore.

Seven New Teams Now Qualify For NIB Tourney

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Seven more teams won district championships last night to qualify for the National Intercollegiate Basketball tournament opening Monday at Kansas City.

They include Lawrence Tech, Arkansas Tech, Mississippi Southern, Nebraska Wesleyan, Whitworth College, Montana State and Arizona State of Flagstaff.

Nine teams now have been certified for the 32-team meet. The two earlier qualifiers were Mercer University of Macon, Ga., and Regis College of Denver.

Lawrence Tech earned its sixth trip to the tournament by trouncing Calvin College 75-59. Arkansas Tech defeated Arkansas State 86-69 to run its record to 25 victories and one loss.

Nebraska Wesleyan disposed of Chadron State Teachers 74-62 and Mississippi Southern downed Troy (Ala.) State 70-61.

French Have German Bid For New Talks

PARIS — Foreign Minister Georges Bidault had under consideration today a bid by West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer for new talks immediately on French-German differences blocking the Europe Defense Community.

Adenauer disclosed last night he had written the French government proposing he and Bidault meet to discuss a settlement of the Saar question and other problems before he leaves next Tuesday for a three-week visit to Greece and Turkey.

A deadlock over the future of the Saar, the coal-bearing, German-speaking border state now linked economically to France, is one of the main roadblocks to French approval of the European Defense Community Treaty that would arm West German troops within a six-nation command.

The Germans do not wish to renounce their old claims to the territory, but say they would "Europeanize" it pending a final peace treaty. France wants a self-governing Saar tied up with her mines, mills and transport to help maintain her as almost the industrial equal of West Germany.

Hoping the French Assembly would vote soon on the defense treaty, Adenauer decided to try for a quick settlement with the French to help the pro-EDC forces in Paris.

Bidault had asked for an early conference on the Saar. But with Indochina war problems on his hands, the French foreign minister did not indicate immediately whether he could meet with Adenauer on such short notice.

If he declines, Adenauer's absence from Bonn until late in the month would postpone the possible removal of the Saar obstacle.

The French Cabinet is heading toward a showdown over whether to push the EDC plan to a quick vote or shuffle along in the hope its chances will be better after Easter.

The conflict evidently pits a considerable pro-EDC faction in the Cabinet against Premier Joseph Laniel. The Premier is reportedly insisting on a slower pace in bringing the issue to a vote than is favored by Bidault and several other ministers.

The New York Times said in a dispatch from Paris today the United States has told French officials it will make a declaration of policy on keeping its troops in Europe whenever the French Cabinet fixes a date for the parliamentary vote on the treaty—but not before.

There was no immediate comment from official sources in Washington or Paris.

The French government had asked for an agreement that U.S. and British troops remain in Europe as counterweights to the West German forces to be created under the treaty and as guarantees of German fidelity to the treaty.

Donnelly Considers Three Nominees For State Merit Post

JEFFERSON CITY — Gov. Phil M. Donnelly now has three nominees before him for the $6,000 a year job as head of the state merit system.

They were certified to him yesterday by the state Personnel Advisory Board as the three who made the top grades in competitive tests. They are, by rank: Roger Kratochvil of Jefferson City, merit system employee in the state Division of Employment security; Robert M. Boone of Rolla, a civilian employee at Ft. Leonard Wood, and Morris F. Steenberger, also a merit system employee in the Employment Security Division.

The governor will pick one to succeed Ralph J. Turner, who resigned Dec. 28 to enter private industry.

Basketball Court Becomes Courtroom

BELLFLOWER, Calif. — A basketball court was the courtroom in which 203 men and women were arraigned on gambling charges growing out of benefit bingo games.

The town's regular courtroom wasn't large enough to accommodate them.

All pleaded innocent yesterday and asked for jury trials. The Eagles Lodge, which had sponsored the games Feb. 19, served coffee and doughnuts to the defendants in a park adjacent to the court, and announced that proceeds of the picnic would go to the Heart Fund.

Crowd Celebrates 100th Birthday Of Atlantic City

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. — About 9,000 people jammed huge Convention Hall last night to celebrate this famed resort's 100th birthday.

The party, held on the eve of Atlantic City's birthday, was described by city officials as the biggest of its kind ever held under one roof.

Among guests were Gov. Robert B. Meyner, other politicians, show people and more notable.

Five thousand persons ate chicken dinners—shuttled 60 miles from kitchens in Philadelphia to the hall—while others sat in the balcony to watch the festivities and show.

Its platform: "Investigations like those carried out by Mr. McCarthy in the United States."

The Social Democrats (Socialists), which have the largest bloc in Parliament and control the government, were the big winners yesterday though the local voting has no bearing on the national Parliament or government.

The Socialists gained 57 seats and now hold council majorities in 61 of the nation's 104 towns and metropolitan Copenhagen boroughs.

The big losers were the Single Tax party, who retained only 5 of the 45 council seats they won in the 1950 elections, and the Communists, who won places on only 16 councils.

Snow Leaves Chicago Traffic Paralyzed

CHICAGO — Chicago's worst snowstorm in 15 years left the city buried under a paralyzing foot of snow today.

The storm hit late yesterday and picked up momentum during the night. Traffic was tied in knots on boulevards and side streets. Hundreds of cars were stalled and had to be rescued by snow plows.

The storm blanketed the entire northern half of Illinois and main highways were blocked or limited to one-way travel some 40 miles south of Chicago.

Sen. George's Treaty Curbs Reconsidered

WASHINGTON — Never say die supporters probed today for signs of life from the constitutional amendment proposed by Sen. George (D-Ga.) to curb treaty powers.

Sen. Lennow (D-N.C.), one of George's backers, filed notice in the Senate yesterday of a move to reconsider Friday's defeat of the treaty measure by one vote. Lennow was absent when the show-down came.

Although Sen. Knowland of California, the GOP leader, previously had said he considered the issue dead for this session of Congress, he said in an interview today it may be brought up again.

Those hopeful of creating new life into the George proposal banked primarily on a prospective change in its wording which could switch a vote or two and alter the previous result. The measure lost when it failed to get the necessary two-thirds of vote voting on final passage, the vote being 60-31.

As the George proposal stood, it would have required treaties and other international agreements to conform to the Constitution, a provision to which President Eisenhower said he had no objection.

But Eisenhower's aides objected to a second section under which international agreements other than treaties could not have become effective as internal law except by act of Congress.

George told the Senate yesterday he was willing to change this provision—but not in the direction favored by Eisenhower. He said he was willing to offer language under which international agreements affecting state laws would be treated as treaties and thus require two-thirds Senate approval before they could override state statutes.

Although George told the Senate there was some doubt he could offer any amendment to his original proposal at this stage, it was learned elsewhere that Lennow's proposed motion was written so that the Georgia senator could modify his measure on his own volition.

Littered Streets Mark the End Of Mardi Gras

NEW YORK — Littered streets and tired faces marked a solemn end today to the carnival season. The climax came with the daylight reign of Rex, Lord of Misrule, and Comus, who held sway by torchlight last night.

Most of the city was costumed and masked for its gala holiday. An impromptu strip tease popped up at points to enliven the crowds.

Masking ended at midnight. The balls of Comus and Rex closed the social activities. At the stroke of midnight the court of Rex visited the court of Comus, in deference to Comus' seniority. The monarchs drank a toast to the end of another carnival season and the beginning of the 40-day Lenten period and the city's return to realism.

Police reported they had 531 complaints compared with about 200 for an ordinary day. There were 103 automobile accidents and 56 cases of drunkenness. John Albert, 33, was shot to death after he broke up a fight between two women.

The accident book at Charity Hospital, overtaxed in treating victims, showed that people had fallen, been stabbed, were struck with bottles and other objects, shot, burned, had acid thrown in their faces and were hurt in auto crashes.

LONDON — Gentlemen of the South—bear this.

The London Daily Mirror correspondent, reporting from New Orleans on the Mardi Gras, described a mint julep today as "a gin and sherry plus sugar and rind of lemon—all iced."

FEPC Bill Would Face Filibuster

WASHINGTON — Senate hearings on a bill to set up a federal fair employment practices commission wind up today with its sponsor conceding any effort to enact it would "face a filibuster."

Sen. Lyes (R-NY) said so yesterday when Walter Reuther, president of the CIO, was in the witness chair endorsing the bill introduced by Lyes and 19 other senators. Five witnesses were scheduled to testify today, two of them representing church groups.

Lyes' bill would set up a federal agency which could force employers not to discriminate against job seekers for race, creed or color, while stressing voluntary methods.

Reuther, recalling that Southern senators had threatened to filibuster against an FEPC bill, told the labor subcommittee many Ameri-

Commons OK On Britain's Peak Budget

LONDON (AP)—The House of Commons approved Britain's record peacetime defense budget last night 295-270. Prime Minister Churchill had asked its approval without a vote but the Labor opposition forced a ballot.

The budget, pointed toward a "new look" buildup of British air and atomic strength as a deterrent to war, provides for the spending of 1,639,000,000 pounds ($4,591,720,000) in the fiscal year starting April 1. It tops the announced outlay for the current year by 3,140,000 pounds.

Churchill asked in debate last night that the House accept the budget without a vote to keep the defense question out of "the trough of party bickering." He said "any weakness or disunity in Britain, when she is known to be working for peace, would weaken her strength out of all proportion to the money saved."

The Laborites criticized individual points in the Conservative government's defense program, called for a cut in conscripts' service terms from two years to 18 months and urged a reduction in the deployment of British troops around the world, particularly in the Suez Canal zone.

Labor party leader Clement Attlee said, "It has always been clear to us that one of the objects of the Kremlin would be to make us expend so much on military preparations that we might cripple our economy."

Conservatives and Laborites divided on strict party lines in approving the budget, which includes American military aid amounting to 85,360,000 pounds (239 million dollars).

In calling for unity, Churchill said any unwillingness by Britain to carry a heavy arms burden would court disaster for this island nation and imperil world peace.

He said Britain must always seek to keep Russian armed might far enough from her shores to prevent a possible launching of parachute troops.

The 79-year-old Prime Minister, speaking vigorously, declared the West's defenses are gaining "a period of alert" to guarantee against a surprise attack.

"An alert period means not only a sure and substantial minimization of the mass, but also, and but an additional hope of averting the conflict itself."

He said Britain is spending twice as much on defense research now as in the 1951-52 fiscal year.

A New Look After 10 Years--

Saipan, Once One of Bloodiest Battlegrounds, Now Quiet Spot

Editor's Note— Americans will recall the battle for Saipan as one of the fiercest of World War II. Today, almost 10 years after U. S. troops stormed ashore there, the island forms an important link in our Pacific defense network. Here's the story of what Blue Beach, Garapan and the old sugar mill look like today.

By WILLIAM J. WAUGH

SAIPAN (AP)—The invasion beach at Saipan, where U. S. troops fought one of the bloodiest battles in American history 10 years ago this summer, is quiet and peaceful today. On D-Day you couldn't hear yourself think.

That's the way a blue-eyed, red-haired lieutenant commander remembers it. The officer, Paul Bridwell of Jacksonville, Ind., was beachmaster of Blue Beach when the U. S. 2nd and 4th Marines hit Saipan June 15, 1944.

Looking back on that day, Bridwell recalled: "You remember the intimate things—the friends who didn't make it—the close calls." More

Demo Chairman Says McCarthy Is Vote Issue

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—The chairman of the Democratic National Committee told a party rally here that the American people will show their displeasure at the polls next November unless President Eisenhower shows Sen. McCarthy who is boss.

Stephen A. Mitchell hit time and again at the differences between Republicans themselves on how to handle McCarthy and his methods of investigating communism.

"The Eisenhower Republicans are coddling McCarthy to the detriment of our country and its citizens," he told 900 persons at a Pinellas County rally last night.

"The people of the United States will not allow this Republican senator to disrupt our constitution, their constitutional rights," he continued.

"The people of America will support the Republican President against McCarthy if he Eisenhower will lead. And if he will not lead, the Republican President will head from the people next November."

Later on he said: "The fact is that the President has made an unholy alliance with Sen. McCarthy for the purpose of the next election."

Government Continues To Reduce Payroll

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate House committee said today the federal civilian payroll dropped in January for the 18th consecutive month.

The Joint Committee on Reduction of Nonessential Federal Expenditures said government employees totaled 2,348,457 in January, a net reduction of 8,834 as compared with the preceding month.

States May Choose Polio Test Areas

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis has decided to let individual states announce the areas selected for tests of the newly developed polio vaccine.

The foundation said yesterday that state health authorities will announce the areas on a staggered basis, with first tests to begin this month. Original plans called for the foundation to name the test areas.

Let Engravers Get Same Pay They Rejected

NEW YORK (AP)—A fact-finding board has recommended that AFL photo-engravers get the same wage offer they rejected in striking six major New York newspapers last December—a $3.75 weekly "package."

The federal study group split 2-1 on the decision, with AFL President George Meany dissenting.

The ruling is not binding, and possibly could lead to a resumption of the unprecedented strike which shut down all major Manhattan newspapers except the Herald Tribune for 11 days. The Tribune suspended publication during part of the strike.

Union comment was not immediately available after the decision was announced last night. It was reported, however, that the union would meet Sunday to study the board's finding.

The ruling was of significance even beyond the union immediately involved. The formula of $3.75 plus fact-finding had been accepted by several other unions and had been expected in many quarters to establish a pattern in the newspaper industry.

The union originally demanded a $15 weekly increase but later reduced the amount to $7.50. An employer offer to submit the issues to arbitration was rejected.

The strike was halted Dec. 8 when both sides agreed to the fact-finding board. The panel was to determine whether the union should get more than the $3.75 offered by the publishers and whether the 36½-hour work week should be reduced.

Impartial Chairman Ralph T. Seward, a Washington, D.C., labor attorney, and Richard Slocum, general manager of the Philadelphia Bulletin, held that the offer was sufficient.

Meany contended, however, that the publishers had ignored the union's demand for wage and hour equality with commercial and gravure shops.

The package offer consists of a $3 weekly pay increase, 50 cents a week representing the value of additional paid holiday time, and 25 cents per week more in employer pension fund contribution.

William Mapel, president of the Publishers Assn. of New York City, representing the newspapers, expressed hope that the board's findings would lead to stability in local newspaper operations.

Senate Believes Waacs as Vital As Were the Waacs

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate wants it understood that the Waacs were just as important to the nation's World War II effort as the Waacs.

As of now, the Waacs legally never were on active duty. A bill passed by the Senate yesterday and sent to the House would change this and give the girls in the WAAC credit for active duty providing they didn't quit the military back in 1943.

Money and prestige are involved as far as the former Waacs are concerned. It's all because of one word, "auxiliary."

WAAC, you see, stands for Women's Army Auxiliary Corps. It was in existence from May 14, 1952, to Sept. 30, 1943.

At that time, the WAC came into being. That stands for the Women's Army Corps. No "auxiliary."

The girls in the WAC were, by law, on active duty. But the Waacs were legally just auxiliaries.

The bill, written by Sen. Saltonstall (R-Mass.) at the request of the Defense Department, would give the Waacs credit for active duty status so long as they stayed on military duty after the auxiliary service was discontinued.

Approval of the bill, Sen. Duff (R-Pa.) said, would enable former Waacs on active duty or in the reserves now "to qualify for increased longevity pay and retirement credit."

Boy Gets Wish for New Bike, Then Winds Up Colliding With Car

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—Nine-year-old Johnny Galvin made like a meteor while wishing on a star but got his wish anyhow. Then for a moment he wished he hadn't.

He was doing his wishing for a bicycle from a second-story window when out he went. He grabbed a ledge and held on until a neighbor caught him in a blanket. He suffered only a bump on the head.

E. R. Hershey of Plymouth, Mich., read of the mishap and sent Johnny a bicycle.

It arrived yesterday. The star-gazer set out on a tour of the neighborhood, lost control and the bike wound up against the rear of an automobile. But that star apparently still was in charge. Johnny escaped injury and the bike came through with nothing more serious than a bent front wheel.

India Cannot Ban US Aid Over Dispute

WASHINGTON (AP)—The hard facts of India's economic struggle served today to discount speculation she might spurn U.S. economic aid in protest against American military aid to Pakistan.

Not counting help through the United Nations and private organizations, the United States has sent India nearly 400 million dollars in economic gifts and loans since 1950.

The Indian government depends so much upon such economic help that its five-year plan, with two years to go, leaves a gap between how much India expects to spend and how much it expects to earn. Outside economic aid presumably fills the gap.

American officials declined comment on speculation, by the influential New Delhi Times yesterday, as to whether all Americans might be asked to leave India. But available figures showed what a heavy loss that would entail for India.

There was no U.S. comment, either, on Prime Minister Nehru's demand for the withdrawal of American members of the U.N. cease-fire mission in Kashmir.

Nehru told the Indian Parliament Monday that the United States, by agreeing to give military aid to
